

Reading

Reading is a very powerful way to help us continue our learning. We are all potentially going to be spending much more time than usual indoors. Please take this as an opportunity to read more. We may not be able physically to go travelling or exploring at the moment, but books can transport you somewhere else for an hour or two.

Below are a few websites that are offering free books to read and listen to:

<https://stories.audible.com/discovery>

<https://www.amazon.co.uk/b?ie=UTF8&node=21173577031>

<https://readon.myon.co.uk/>

I would also like you to sign up to ReadTheory which is a website to improve your reading. There are different short extracts to read and then you take a quiz to test your understanding of the extract that you have read. Knowledge points are available when you complete each quiz (there will be prizes for you when we are back at school). If you pass a quiz, you move on to the next level. Simple.

To sign up you need to do the following:

1. Log on to <https://readtheory.org/>
2. Sign up yourself. This video explains how to do this:
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4112dDFmtwQ&feature=youtu.be>
3. Enter the class code so that I can track your progress: EHGCUYJL
4. Take the pre-test and then you can start learning.

If you have any questions, please email me: jpaterson@st-matthias.com

Thanks, Mr Paterson.